2. The current local terms and conditions applicable to supporting schedules for services of this kind;

   NHS Devon can confirm that there are no local amendments to the NHS clinical standard contract as a result of a provider being accredited under patient choice legislation.

7. The number of adult ADHD assessment referrals made under patient choice in the last 12 months for which figures are held, and any current waiting-time data for adult ADHD assessment.

   NHS Devon does not record whether referrals are made as a result of patient choice. All referrals that are subject to national choice legislation, and those that are locally agreed to be offered choice, are offered the choice of all clinically appropriate providers.

   All elective care (not just RTC) is subject to minimum waiting times of 14 weeks. Providers with waiting times under 52 weeks are asked to ensure this maximum wait is maintained. Those with waiting times over 52 weeks are working to reduce waiting times.
